From the Pastor's Desk:

Walking in Faith, Sowing Christ's Love

'Walking in Faith, Sowing Christ's Love' invites us to explore what it means to follow Christ in everyday life. Each month, we will reflect on Scripture, Lutheran teaching, and practical ways to grow in faith and share God's love with others. Through these reflections, we hope to deepen our trust in God's promises, live out our calling as Christ's disciples, and find guidance for nurturing faith in our homes, workplaces, and communities. Each article concludes with a question for personal reflection, helping us walk more faithfully with God.

June – Bearing the Fruit of the Spirit

If May invites us to sow seeds of love, June invites us to consider the fruit that grows from a life rooted in Christ. The Apostle Paul describes this fruit in Galatians 5:22–23: 'love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control.' Notably, Paul speaks of fruit in the singular — suggesting a unified work of the Spirit rather than disconnected virtues we must individually master.

Fruit grows naturally from a healthy tree. It is not taped onto branches or manufactured through sheer effort. Jesus makes this clear in John 15: 'Abide in me as I abide in you... Just as the branch cannot bear fruit by itself unless it abides in the vine, neither can you unless you abide in me.' Fruit is the result of connection.

This is crucial for Lutheran theology. The Christian life is not about striving to become morally impressive. It is about remaining connected to Christ through Word and Sacrament, allowing the Holy Spirit to shape our character over time. The fruit of the Spirit is evidence of grace at work — not proof of our spiritual superiority.

Notice how relational these fruits are. Love, patience, kindness, gentleness — these qualities emerge most clearly in community. They are cultivated not in isolation but in the sometimes messy reality of life together. Bearing fruit requires proximity to others, including those who test our patience or challenge our assumptions.

There is also a gradualness to fruit. Growth takes time. Seasons matter. A farmer does not dig up seeds daily to check progress. In the same way, spiritual growth often happens beneath the surface. The Spirit forms us through repetition — weekly worship, daily prayer, confession and forgiveness, service and rest.

It is also worth noting that fruit exists for others. A tree does not consume its own fruit. Likewise, the Spirit shapes our lives so that others may be nourished. Joy strengthens the weary. Peace calms conflict. Kindness softens hardened hearts. Self-control protects relationships. The Spirit's work in us becomes blessing for those around us.

Philippians 1:6 offers reassurance: 'The one who began a good work among you will bring it to completion.' The Spirit is patient. God is committed to finishing what He has begun.

As we reflect this month, we might ask not, 'How can I force fruit to appear?' but rather, 'How can I remain connected to Christ?' Abiding precedes bearing.

Walking in faith and sowing Christ's love inevitably leads to fruit — not always dramatic or visible, but steady and real. The Spirit is at work, often quietly, shaping us into people who reflect Christ's character.

Reflection Question:

Which fruit of the Spirit do you most see growing in your life right now — and where might the Spirit be inviting you to deepen your connection to Christ?

Pastor Steve

FROM INTERN BETH...

Over this past year, I've spent time exploring things to do here in Indiana, jumping into traditions at the church and exploring different opportunities throughout the state. As I've done so I have experienced the work of God, the presence of the Holy Spirit, and love of the community of Christ. As I have shared some of those experiences with you all, I have another, but you need to stick with me for it because it goes beyond being an Indiana tradition.

One of my mom's favorite stories to tell others about me is from the first time my family watched the movie Secretariat together and I, not fully knowing the story, leaned over to her as the movie set it up for him to run the final race and whispered to my mom "I hope he wins." While that was a moment of complete child-like wonder and innocence, it has become a favorite family story to tell. To this day, I continue to be fascinated and experience wonder at the Kentucky Derby and Triple Crown races. I think what continues to draw me in to this tradition is all the training and anticipation, the preparation and intensity that goes into "the most exciting two minutes in sports." The day of the race itself is filled with its own traditions and rituals that generations of families and people have shared together. But the time leading up to race day is filled with training and preparation all done with incredible discipline.

As I reflected on that, and invite you to do the same, I think in many ways the Derby mirrors our own faith journeys. We have these big days in our faith, like our baptism and first communion and confirmation, where we celebrate using traditions passed down through generations and those might be days where we feel God closer to us in our faith. But the majority of our journey is done behind the scenes; through everyday moments of living the life God calls us into, the quiet times we spend reading and reflecting on scripture, on the self-discipline we have to learn and grow in our faith. We don't do this as a race against one another, or as a way to get the most fame or wealth or recognition as we live out our faith. Paul write us in his second letter to Timothy, "I have fought the good fight; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith. From now on there is reserved for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give me on that day, and not only to me but also to all who have longed for his appearing."

Being so close to Louisville while here, I couldn't pass up the opportunity to go explore Churchill Downs. I can say walking through the museum and touring the racetrack, that same sense of wonder came over me again. I invite you all to go out in faith, carrying that childlike wonder to fight the good fight, to run the race, to keep your faith.

Intern Beth's Final Sunday for Internship

July 12

One service at 9:00 a.m.

After the service, there will be a meal to provide a time of fellowship and goodbye to Intern Beth.

The congregation will provide the meat for the meal, and there will be a sign-up at the Welcome Center to provide items for the meal.

There will be a basket where individuals can put cards and expressions of thanksgiving for the ministry that Intern Beth provided over the past year as she has ministered to and with us throughout her internship process.

We will keep everybody up to date about Beth's final year at seminary and her process for candidacy.

Intern Moving Days

If you would like to help move Intern Beth, July 12 is the day for loading up the moving truck.

A time for loading will be listed in the future.

UPCOMING WORSHIP

Below are the lessons and some thoughts about the upcoming Sundays. Please take some time to look over the lesson and reflect upon them in preparation of the upcoming weeks in worship.

June 7th:

Text—Matthew 9:9-13, 18-26

Though Jesus was a devout Jew who practiced his faith, he was criticized for eating with tax collectors and sinners—the religiously nonobservant. Jesus criticizes the self-righteous and reminds us that mercy is to be at the heart of our religious practices. God continues to be made known in those on the margins of society, like Matthew the tax collector and the hemorrhaging woman. As we gather each Lord's day we receive the healing that makes us well and sends us forth to be signs of God's mercy for the world.

June 14th:

Text—Matthew 9:35-10:23

Moses tells the Israelites that they are called to be a priestly kingdom and a holy people. Jesus sends out the disciples as laborers into the harvest. In baptism we too are anointed for ministry, sharing God's compassion with our needy world. From the Lord's table we go forth to proclaim the good news, to heal the sick, and to share our bread with the hungry.

June 21st:

Text—Matthew 10:24-39

God does not promise that the path of the disciple will be easy. Jeremiah feels the pain of rejection from those who do not want to hear what he has to say. Jesus declares that his words may bring stark division. Even so, we need not be afraid for God accounts for each hair on our heads. Though we may experience rejection, frustration, division, and death, God's grace and love make us a new creation each day. Marked with the cross and filled with holy food, we are sent from worship to witness to Christ in the world.

June 28th:

Text—Matthew 10:40-42

The welcome of baptism is for all God's children. This baptismal gift sets us free from the power of sin and death. In today's gospel, Christ promises that the disciple who gives a cup of cold water to the little ones serves Christ himself. From worship we are sent on our baptismal mission: to serve the little ones of this world and to be a sign of God's merciful welcome.

UPCOMING TRIPS

Senior Daycamp Trip

Louisville, KY

Thursday, June 11

The Borchers Breakfast Club will have its annual Daycamp outing during Daycamp week when the facilities are overrun by children. This year we will head south to Louisville and Riverside, the Farnsley-Moreman Landing for a tour of the historic home and grounds of this 300-acre farm which overlooks the Ohio River. We will have lunch at locally famous Mike Linnig's Seafood followed by a visit to Little Loom House for a tour and a mini-lesson in weaving a coaster to keep. Bus will leave at 8:45 AM and return around 4:00 PM. All expenses are paid for BBC participants and a guest by Borchers Breakfast Club. Regular BBC will not meet on that Thursday.

Tour of Seymour High School

Tuesday, July 28

Administrator Aaron Floyd will host a private tour of Seymour High School. We'll see the most recent additions and changes to the building as well as what's remained the same. Meet at 10:00 AM at the main entrance (Entrance 1) for the tour. Lunch will be enjoyed at a local establishment after the tour.

Coming in August...
